SUBJECT: Russian-Language Information on the Situation in Ukraine
(please specify)

TEXT:

The situation in Ukraine remains deeply concerning for the European Union and its member states. Furthermore, Russia seems to use its media in what has been dubbed 'information warfare' to attack the West's 'interference' in Ukraine.

With this in mind, does the Council see merit in the recent idea to launch a Russian-language European TV Channel? What other potential solutions could the Council consider in order to assist Russian speakers to gain access to factual information on the situation in the Ukraine?
